A majestic private residence, built at the beginning of the 20th century and surrounded by expansive terraces with a beautiful south-facing garden, is set on a 2,200 m² plot within the gated community of Villa Montmorency in Paris.

An impressive entrance hall with marble flooring and a monumental staircase with wrought-iron railings leads to a spacious living room with a fireplace and direct access to the terrace, as well as to two studies, a dining room, a fully equipped kitchen with a breakfast nook, and a separate guest toilet. On the upper floor, two apartments are accessible from the landing, with the main apartment occupying nearly 90 m² and featuring direct access to the terrace. The top floor houses a lounge and three additional apartments with balconies and terraces. All floors are connected by an elevator.

At garden level, extensive leisure facilities are provided, including a 6 × 10 meter swimming pool, a fitness area, a sauna, and a Turkish bath, complemented by changing rooms, a wine cellar, and technical rooms. The home cinema is cleverly designed to also serve as a squash court. In the annex (120 m²) there are four lockable garages and a separate three-room apartment intended for the caretaker. Up to 10 cars can be parked under the outdoor shelter.

The house is equipped with highly sophisticated technology, including air conditioning, a smart home system, CCTV and security systems, an intercom, fire detectors, an automatic irrigation system, and outdoor lighting.

The exceptionally secure Villa Montmorency enclave, with strictly controlled access, evokes the charm of the Normandy countryside and a tranquil retreat in western Paris. This exclusive micro-location, situated in the 16th arrondissement, is home to many prominent figures, including actors, business magnates, and politicians. Nearby Avenue Mozart offers extensive shopping and a range of services, while the landscaped Bois de Boulogne park and the Auteuil racecourse are also close by.
